U2 Spy Pilot Is Praised, Keeps Old Job

Powers Testifies Before Solons, Leaves On Secret Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Praise from several senators has capped Francis Gary Powers' story of his U2 flight over the Soviet Union, his capture and imprisonment in one of the cold war's hottest episodes.

It was an exciting story the soft-spoken pilot told Tuesday in a 90-minute appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee—a mystery explosion 12 miles up, a spinning plane and long hours of questioning.

Then as secretly as he came, the high altitude flier slipped away for a vacation.

CIA Director John A. McCone told reporters Powers will continue to be employed by the CIA. "We have additional work for him to do," McCone said. "I hope today's hearing has cleared up any cloud that may have been hanging over him."

After the hearing Powers linked his arms with two sisters and went off for what he said will be a vacation at an unannounced place. He indicated he plans no news conference such as President Kennedy said the pilot would be free to hold.

In the faint country twang of southwest Virginia Powers told the committee in a packed hearing room, where spectators often broke into applause, that he doesn't really know what caused the explosion that downed his plane.

He said the blast, which fired the sky with orange, "sounded like a 'shump.'" He conceded it might have come from a near-miss by a Soviet rocket.

Powers' recital of his efforts to fight to get out of the U2 and his disposal of a map while riding his parachute down obviously impressed senators and spectators.

Senators nodded approval as he testified that when his efforts to invent a cover story failed he decided to tell the Russians he was linked with the CIA—as he said he had been instructed to do if he was captured—but withheld some vital information.

The biggest outburst of applause came when Powers raised his voice to say that during his ordeal of capture, imprisonment, endless hours of questioning, trial and sentence he always remembered that "I am an American."

At another point he cried loudly, "Oh, no" when he was asked if he were under obligation to kill himself if captured.

Even before Powers testified the CIA said in a report the 32-year-old pilot had lived up to his instructions and "his obligations as an American." The report said he would get his back pay, amounting to about $50,000.

Not all the senators commented during the session, but Sen. Everett Stalton, R-Mass., led off the praise when he told the flier he wanted to commend him as a "courageous, fine young American citizen who lived up to his instructions and did the best you could under very difficult circumstances."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said he was "satisfied to learn you have been fully exonerated."

GOP Chief Raps DiSalle Seminars

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The series of seminars on state government held by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in eight Ohio cities was political, Roger Cloud, Republican majority leader of the Ohio House of Representatives, said in a speech here.

Cloud told a GOP political school Tuesday he was almost certain DiSalle "looked upon them (the seminars) as being politically advantageous."

Declaring politics could not be divorced from the seminars, Cloud remarked: "To say they are devoid of political motive, well, I'm just not that naive. At times I lost a little patience with the governor."

Fairview Request Shelved for Study

A petition and a resolution advocating construction of sidewalks and curbs and gutters on Fairview Ave. hit a snag in City Council last night.

The petition was signed by about 40 residents on Fairview. A small delegation from the area attended the Council session for added comments.

The resolution, written to get Council's feelings on the matter, was referred to the Service Committee for study and probable additional action at the next meeting.

A problem cropped up when it was learned that Fairview Ave. bears a width of about 60 feet near Lancaster Pike, then narrows to about 25 feet along a two-acre tract owned by Louis A. Martin.

THE IMMEDIATE question was what to do about widening the narrow section. The problem evolved a little deeper when it was learned that Martin has expressed no designs to give the city an easement for curb, gutter and sidewalk erection along his tract.

The resolution, submitted by Mayor Richard Penn on behalf of the Service Department, was prepared in order to learn Council's opinion on the proposal. The mayor said it would be needless for Service Director - Engineer Ronald Sharrett to go ahead with lengthy plans and specifications if the project would not be undertaken.

The resident petitioners of Fairview explained that most persons living there are willing to pay for construction by entering into an agreement with a private contractor. The resolution asked that the city install curbs, gutters and sidewalks where the owner does not, then bill the owner for the cost.

According to the resolution, the project would extend from the east side of Fairview between Lancaster Pike and the south line of the Avondale Addition and on the west side from Lancaster Pike to the south line of the Mar-

Chief Klumpp Prober Dies after Surgery

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lt. Charles E. Martin, 46, who headed Cincinnati police's investigation of the Edythe Klumpp murder case in 1958, died Tuesday night in General Hospital.

Hospital attaches said the officer died of complications following an operation for ulcers last Wednesday.

Ash Wednesday Is Observed By Millions of Christians

NEW YORK (AP)—"Remember, man, that thou art dust, and unto dust thou shalt return."

With the pronouncement of these Biblical words, ashes in the form of a cross were being imposed today on the foreheads of millions of Christians around the world.

It is "Ash Wednesday," the beginning of Lent, a 40-day interlude of penitence before Easter. The midnight tolling of bells marked the beginning of the period in some areas, such as Austria and southern Germany.

There and elsewhere, worshippers were called to services this morning, with other special devotions scheduled throughout the next six weeks.

For church people, it is a time of self-denial and spiritual disciplining to get rid of habits—whether of work or pleasure—that distract from making God the prime object of love and service.

tin tract, provided the Martin land is not acquired for widening.

Two delegate petitioners requested action on the proposal be forthcoming. They told of difficult conditions which arise in the area during rains and storms.

They also pointed out the benefits which will be derived by children using the sidewalks when the new Nicholas Drive School is opened in September.

A THIRD delegate brought up the question of Fairview Ave. surface conditions if and when the construction is completed. He was told by Service Director Sharrett that the street would be adequately prepared.

In other business, the lawmakers heard a request to locate a taxi cab stand in the small city-owned lot between City Hall and Clifton Motors. The proposal was by John Robinson, owner of the local taxi firm.

Robinson said he will be forced to move from his present location on E. Main St. within about a month due to building and expansion plans of the First National Bank, owner of the property.

The taxi company owner said four parking meter spaces would be required at the new location for adequate operation of his autos. The proposal was referred to the Safety Committee.

18 NYC Cars Jump Tracks

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen cars of a New York Central freight train derailed three miles west of Athens this morning.

Railroad officials reported that the 15th car in a train 75 cars long jumped the rails and 17 others followed it off. Five or six, all empty, overturned but the rest remained upright.

One of the last to leave the rails was "a very dangerous car of poison gas," reported transportation superintendent A. L. Johnson in Columbus.

He said however that the car is upright, not damaged and can be rerailed easily. There is no more danger involved than if the car were on the rails, he said.

The train was on the way from Columbus to Norfolk, Va., with 42 loads and 33 empties.

There were no injuries and damage was confined to railroad property.

Five Teachers Employed for City Schools

Principal Named At Nicholas Dr.; Two Hired at CHS

A principal for the new Nicholas Drive Elementary School and five other teachers were hired by the Circleville Board of Education meeting in regular session last night.

Mrs. Ruth Schneider, 585 N. Court St., was employed as principal and teacher of the sixth grade at the new elementary school, slated to open in September.

The educators also approved a motion to accept the new building and the addition to the S. Court Street Building from contractors. The new Nicholas Drive principal is presently in the kindergarten department at Atwater School. She has been at that post for six years.

MRS. SCHNEIDER holds a BS degree in Elementary Education from the University of Akron. She is working toward her master's degree.

Vacancies in elementary grades created by the opening of the new school in September were filled, although no definite posts were assigned. Named were:

Mrs. Carolyn Solt, the former Carolyn Martin, Route 3, Lancaster, employed to teach a first grade. She has a BS degree in elementary education from Ohio University, Athens.

Miss Daryl Ann Sobehart, who will graduate in June from Muskingum College at New Concord, will teach in a second grade post.

Miss Mary Ann Edstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Edstrom Sr., 123 Seyfert Ave., was hired to teach third grade. Miss Edstrom, a graduate of Circleville High School, will receive her BS degree in elementary education from the Ohio State University in June.

In addition to elementary teachers, two were hired on the secondary level for remedial classes in the high school.

Bender Linked To $100,000 Bribe Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal prosecutor has charged that the late Sen. George H. Bender, Ohio Republican, accepted a $100,000 bribe to quash a stock fraud investigation.

The accusation was made Tuesday by Asst. U.S. Atty. Gerald Walpin as he was finishing his opening statement in the trial of 12 men and four corporate defendants in the stock fraud case.

The defendants were indicted for allegedly selling 575,000 shares of unregistered stock of the United Dye and Chemical Corp., now known as Chemoil Industries Inc., in 1955 and 1956, costing the public $5 million.

Walpin said a defendant—oil promoter Samuel S. Garfield of Clare, Mich.—paid the money to Bender. Bender at the time was special assistant to the secretary of the interior in the Eisenhower administration.

"The government will show," Walpin said, "that when the investigation commenced the defendant Garfield paid $100,000 to former Sen. George Bender, then special assistant to the secretary of the interior of the United States government, in order to get this investigation quashed."

Bender, who had served several terms as a congressman from Ohio, was in the Senate from 1954 to 1956. He died last June 17 at the age of 64.

Walpin said two other defendants shared responsibility for the bribe attempt. He named them as Virgil D. Dardi of New York, president of Chemoil, and oil investor Irving Pasternak of Denver.

Originally it was used only for "public sinners"—and was a far harsher affair than now.

Solar Observatory Orbits To Study Sun's Radiation

Next Astronaut's Hometown Recalls His Determination

SPARTA, Wis. (AP)—"Don was a determined boy, who knew where he was going."

That's how his one-time science instructor remembers Donald Kent Slayton who is scheduled to become his country's second man in orbit next month.

There are many other recollections of the astronaut by family and friends.

He played a trombone for four years in the high school band, and was proud of the uniform; he raised a prize sheep and won a blue ribbon, and sometimes he ran the five miles from school to his farm home to keep in shape for the track team; he has 3,600 hours in the air, and he told his mother the wildest ride of his life was in a taxi cab taking him from one Chicago airport to another.

For Don Slayton—he did not become Deke until Air Force buddies made a nickname of his initials—the urge for wings came early. The Sparta High School yearbook said of him in his junior year that his theme song was "keep 'em flying."

Walter Pribnow, who was Slayton's science instructor and now is superintendent of schools at Appleton, Wis., remembered that during Don's senior year he took a special interest in an aeronautics class.

"We made black airplane models for identification," Pribnow said. "Don was a determined boy, who knew where he was going."

Slayton was born, 38 years ago last week, in the Sparta hospital to Charles Slayton and his second wife, Victoria, both of Norwegian stock, and spent his boyhood on the family farm near the town of Leon.

He was graduated from Leon Elementary School at the head of

Girl, 4, Ready For Removal Of Second Leg

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Susie Stuck, recovering quickly from her first operation, is getting ready for the second in a series of operations to amputate both legs at the knees so that she may walk with artificial limbs.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stuck, of suburban Battle Creek Township, were in Chicago last weekend to see her. They report she is doing fine and is as cheerful as ever. They plan to go back next weekend for another visit.

It was a week ago today that surgeons at Chicago's Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children amputated Susie's right leg at the knee. Previous surgery had indicated that the amputations were necessary to help overcome a congenital condition which prevented the muscles in the lower extremities from developing.

Susie is now embarked on perhaps a year of surgery, therapy, being fitted with artificial limbs and learning how to use them.

Relatively few people knew Susie Stuck before last week.

Now the story about the bright-eyed, 4-year-old brunette who participated in the decision to have her legs amputated has gone far and wide.

Susie has friends throughout the nation. She is getting a lot of mail from people she has never known. There are cards and letters from children and adults wishing Susie well.

U.S. Army Exchanging Berlin Battle Groups

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Army today resumed exchange of two battle groups in the Berlin garrison after a day's delay caused by heavy snow. Today the sky was blue and the sun shone.

Two motorized companies rolled in opposite directions along the ice-crusted autobahn.

One company of the 2nd Battle Group, 47th Infantry, was bound for Berlin from West Germany. A company of the 1st Battle Group, 19th Infantry, headed west.

his class and entered Sparta High School in a class of 180. A new $1.5 million high school, just completed, will be named for him if, the board said last week, he improves the move.

In high school, he played trombone for four years with the band, and there is a picture of him in the band uniform, looking proud, and a little shy. He was out for the track team all four years, and played on the school's Future Farmers of America basketball team for three years.

Don, his brother Howard, his sisters Beverly and Verna, and Russ and Lloyd Harris made the five-mile trip to school daily in a Model T Ford the Harris boys bought for $26.

During track season, Don sometimes ran the five miles to improve his wind and legs.

It was with the Future Farmers that he raised the prize Oxford sheep, and after winning classes at the Monroe County Fair in Tomah went on to the state fair.

Graduated 16th in his class, he enlisted in the Air Force on his 18th birthday.

Violent Storm Pounds East, Tides Shatter Shorelines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter's most violent storm for much of the East delivered a vicious parting kick today in the form of shore-shattering tides, snarled transportation, devastating fires, flooded towns and heavy wind and water damage.

At least 20 deaths were counted, and 8 persons were reported missing.

The tempest had carried the remnants of its cargo of snow and freezing rain out to sea after dumping up to three feet of flakes in some inland areas.

But its backlash of staggering winds—reported as high as 84 miles per hour or hurricane velocity at Block Island, R.I.—churned seas into mountainous waves and sent them smashing into coastal areas from Virginia to New England.

Authorities were planning complete evacuation of storm-battered Ocean City, N.J., a summer resort with a year-round population of about 1,000. The raging tides had put the town under several feet of water. Fires destroyed at least two buildings.

Some winter residents of Fire Island, a summer playground off the South Shore of New York's Long Island, were reported to have appealed to the mainland for someone to come get them. It was not immediately possible because of the high seas.

Commuter train and ferry service in the New York metropolitan area was snarled again today.

Ferry service linking Manhattan and northern New Jersey was halted, but boats continued to ply between Manhattan and Staten Island across the harbor to the south.

The Long Island Rail Road had new troubles and delays on its South Shore line and had to han-

Surgeons Link Smoking to Various Ills

LONDON (AP)—A committee from Britain's Royal College of Surgeons reported today after a two-year study that cigarette smoking may be a contributing cause of death from a number of diseases besides lung cancer.

The committee studied thousands of case histories and examined more than 200 other medical inquiries into smoking. Some of their conclusions leaked out several weeks ago. But the full 70-page report was not made public until today.

Here are some of their findings: Cigarette smoking is the most likely cause of the recent worldwide increase in deaths from lung cancer.

The habit probably increases the risk of death from coronary heart disease, particularly in early middle age.

It may be partly responsible for tuberculosis deaths among elderly men.

Smoking may be a contributory factor in cancer of the mouth, pharynx, esophagus and bladder. It may be a reason for the increased mortality from peptic ulcers; and

It is an important predisposing cause in development of chronic bronchitis.

U.S. Launches New, Complex Science 'Moon'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

—A solar observatory satellite was fired into orbit today to learn how solar radiation influences the weather and other conditions on earth and how great a threat it is to manned space flight.

The satellite, nicknamed OSO for orbiting solar observatory, was packed with instruments to give scientists their first clear look at basic mysteries of the sun.

The 458-pound OSO payload roared away from this spaceport at 11:06 a.m. (EST) aboard a Thor-Delta rocket. All three stages ignited as planned and propelled the craft into orbit about 350 miles above the earth at 17,000 miles an hour.

Less than an hour later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that radio signals received by ground stations indicated the satellite was in orbit.

One of the most complex scientific payloads ever sent aloft, OSO was designed to make the first comprehensive study of the sun from a vantage point above the distorting influence of the earth's atmosphere.

The new space traveler is the first of several such observatories planned to unravel puzzles of sun-earth relations. Space agency officials hope to launch at least one a year to chart a full 11-year sunspot cycle.

Sunspots are violent eruptions on the face of the sun ranging in area from 100 miles to more than 150,000 miles in diameter. They are believed to be venting valves for tremendous forces at work below the sun's surface where temperatures reach 50 million degrees Fahrenheit.

These explosions unleash great clouds of radiation which spread at incredible speed throughout the solar system—with some of the hot-red particles zipping the 93 million miles to the earth's umbrella-like atmosphere in 10 minutes.

The atmosphere protects us from most of this lethal radiation by absorbing or deflecting the rays—such as X-rays, gamma, ultra-violet and infrared. If they penetrated, life as now known on earth would not exist.

The atmosphere also prevents ground instruments from obtaining a clear idea how this radiation affects the earth's weather, influences radio communications, alters the composition of the globe-girdling Van Allen radiation belts and bears on the structure and evolution of the stars.

Disalle, who is engaged in a fight for the Democratic nomination for another term, said the legislature's $139 million in mental health appropriations for the next two years would provide "an inadequate program."

An additional $5 million is essential, he said, to keep the state from losing many of the hard-to-get trained personnel it hired in a nationwide recruiting program.

He said Ohioans spend $10 million a year on chewing gum, "and I cannot ever believe the citizens of Ohio...would ever consent to a reduction in this program," if they knew the full story.

One new hospital that cost $1.7 million is now so short-staffed, he said, that it is caring for only 28 mentally retarded children "when it could be providing for 100."

He said it is "disheartening to go into that hospital and see the swimming pool empty and the gymnasium without a therapist."

Wrong Place, Time Prove Hard on Parolee

DETROIT (AP)—It was a case of being in the wrong place at the wrong time for both James Harkins, 36, of suburban Nankin Township, and his car.

Harkins, sought on a larceny charge, was arrested Tuesday when he walked into the Wayne County sheriff's office to get information on a traffic accident he had been involved in.

Deputies were tipped that Harkins, on parole after serving time for armed robbery, might be in the building because his car was parked in front.

Last of Troy Jail Escapees Is Captured

TROY, Ohio (AP)—The last of three men who escaped from the Miami County Jail here Monday night was taken into custody today.

He is Robert P. Broderick, 31, formerly of Piqua. He was arrested in a Celina, Mercer County, motel supply closet where he tried to hide from officers from whom he had previously escaped.

Police Lt. Charles Muether, Patrolman Don Kuhn and Deputy Sheriff Bob Frame of Mercer County made the arrest. Broderick surrendered quietly.

Tuesday night, a second of three men who fled the jail, Horace E. Patton, was arrested by Celina policemen at the time Broderick escaped. The Celina officers had fired two shots at Broderick.

The third escapee, Charles Hewitt, 34, of Troy, was taken to a hospital Monday night after getting only a short distance from the jail. Both his heels were broken in a leap from a roof, and he telephoned the jail for help.

Patton, 22, of Dayton was jailed here originally on charges of breaking into coin machines.

Jailbreaking charges have been filed against all three. There is some suspicion a fourth party may have helped the fugitives.

Could Ford Sell Parts To Chevrolet?

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—Ford Motor Co. will offer some 50 Ford-built products to other auto manufacturers for use as original equipment on competing makes of cars.

This was announced here today by Stanley J. Gillen, general manager of Ford's hardware and accessories division, in a speech prepared for a civic luncheon which followed groundbreaking for an addition to Ford's spark plug plant.

Gillen said that until now his division has concentrated on filling Ford's own needs and on competing in the replacement market. "From here on out, however, we are going after some new customers," he said.

Items offered will include generators, starting motors, carburetors, speedometers, horns, heaters, spark plugs and batteries, among others, he said.

Stock Market Still Dragging

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dragged along irregularly early this afternoon with a slight tendency to the downside. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 20 at 257.10 with industrials off .10, rails off .30 and utilities off .20.

Oils, rubbers, rails, motors and chemicals went generally lower. The tobaccos, nonferrous metals and electronics showed a slightly higher trend.

Ford was a soft spot among autos, losing a couple of points. GM held steady while Chrysler dropped a fraction.

J. P. Stevens and Fairchild Camera each advanced more than a point.

Amerasia had another sinking spell, losing more than 2. Oils were generally easy. Texaco dropped a fraction.

EVIAN, France (AP)—French and Algerian rebel officials sat down at the conference table again today for what may be the final round of talks in their long search for an agreement to end the Algerian rebellion.

Three Swiss army helicopters flew the Algerian delegation across Lake Geneva from their hotel headquarters on the Swiss side. Rebel Vice Premier Belkacem Krim led the Algerian team.

Louis Joxe, French minister for Algerian affairs, headed the French negotiators waiting in Evian's Hotel du Parc to hammer out final details of an accord providing for a cease-fire and referendum to give independence to strife-torn Algeria.

Amid widespread expectations that a peace agreement would be reached in a matter of days, violence and bloodshed continued unabated in Algeria. Tuesday's toll there was 24 killed and 32 wounded as the rightist European Secret Army Organization bent on keeping French control of the territory, kept up terror raids, and the Moslems retaliated.

Krim predicted "a lasting, satisfactory and happy solution" as he arrived in nearby Geneva.

Carrying on from recent secret negotiations, the two sides will try to fill the gaps in their tentative accord. They already have agreed on general provisions of the accord calling for Algerian self-determination and eventual independence for Algeria's 10 million people—90 per cent of them North Africans.

A cease-fire proclamation may end the war between the rebels and the French army. But the peace agreement is expected to intensify the terrorist campaign by European settlers who bitterly oppose an independent Algeria which the Moslem majority will control.

Algerian spokesmen have complained that President Charles de Gaulle's government and the French army have not been as energetic as they could be in combating the European terrorists. They charge that many French officers sympathize with the secret army and some officers are actual accomplices.

One point still to be settled in the Evian talks is the future role of the French army in checking terrorism and preventing an uprising by the European population of Algeria.

The tentative accord reportedly runs to about 100 pages, to be issued as a joint statement of French and rebel intentions, once the cease-fire has been proclaimed.

Guardhouse Smashed By Derailed Train

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A guard at the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. plant stepped from a brick guardhouse today moments before a derailed freight car demolished the building.

Richard D. Grover told police he was standing outside the building when the Erie Lackawanna freight car hurtled into the structure.

An ice packed switch is believed to have caused the derailment as the car was being switched onto the plant siding.

Semi-Invalid Killed By Henry County Fire

NAPOLÉON, Ohio (AP)—The body of 70-year-old Albert N. Gebhart was found Tuesday night in his burning residence at Pleasant Bend, 17 miles south of here on Ohio 115.

Gebhart, a semi-invalid, lived in a house adjoining a store operated by his brother, Ernest, who found the body.

Sheriff Fred Bartels of Henry County said the fire apparently was caused by a cigar Gebhart was smoking.

Committee Reports Submitted At Chamber Directors' Meet

Committee reports headed the business agenda when the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met for a noon luncheon meeting at Benny's Restaurant yesterday.

Committee chairmen were invited guests. Brief reports were made on several coming projects. A special guest was Police Chief Robert Temple who reported on the parking situation in Circleville.

One of the reports was by Leo Morgan and his membership committee. The chairman said the annual C of C member drive has been scheduled for Mar. 22.

According to Morgan, a tentative list of members is now being drawn. The drive will start at 9 a. m. on the date selected, following an 8:30 meeting at Benny's. Contacts for following days also have been planned.

DR. David Goldschmidt of the program committee noted that his unit has planned a special meeting in connection with the membership effort. The exact date and place will be announced.

A "Know Your Community" project has been outlined by the Public Relations committee. This will include a history on at least 17 businesses and industries in this area.

The committee also plans a similar series on various farm families in the county.

George Fuhrman, reporting for Nat Lefko of the Retail Merchants committee, termed the February Dollar Day and George Washington Birthdays Sales promotions as successful here.

However, he noted that more merchant participation is needed in similar future events.

Advertisers, Publishers Hear JFK Appeal on Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appealed to the nation's advertisers and publishers today for support of his trade expansion program, declaring it one of the most vital issues facing the country.

Kennedy told the Advertising Council it performs a real national service with its $100-million annual advertising campaign for public causes.

"I hope that this year you will devote yourself especially to advancing our trade program," he said.

Kennedy said the swift development of Europe, helped by some $13.5 billion of American aid since the Marshall Plan, is creating a stable and valuable base across the Atlantic "from which we can expand the cause of freedom around the world."

He noted that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has devoted long

F. O. Patrick New Owner of Furniture Firm

A business transaction was completed yesterday making F. O. Patrick, 315 Wood Lane, the new owner and operator of The Mason Furniture Store, 121 N. Court St.

Patrick previously owned half interest in the business and purchased the second undivided half interest from Karl Mason, 302 Watt St.

Mason's Furniture, well known in the area for its fine furniture and carpeting, opened business here in 1900. Patrick became associated with the firm in 1942.

The new owner said today that the administration and personnel of the store will remain the same.

MASON and his wife left yesterday for an extensive visit in Arizona. According to Patrick, the Masons have not made any definite plans.

The local furniture store carries top brands of merchandise such as mattresses, upholstered furniture, carpets and dining room and bedroom suites.

Potato Marketing Hearing Dates Set

Beginning dates for the last four of seven hearing sessions on a proposed National Potato Marketing Agreement and Order have been changed, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

As previously announced, public hearing sessions will be held at the New Commodore Hotel, 42nd St. and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., beginning March 12, Secor Hotel, Jefferson and Superior St., Toledo, O. beginning March 19; and Radisson Hotel, 45 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn., beginning March 22, 1962.

The remaining sessions of the hearing are latter day Saints Hall, 140 North Garfield St., Pocatello, Idaho, beginning March 27; American Legion Hall, 1301 17th St., Bakersfield, Calif., beginning April 5; Auditorium, Public School Administration Building, 910 W. 8th St., Amarillo, Texas, beginning April 12; and Henry Grady Hotel, 210 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga., beginning April 17.

The first day of the New York session of the hearing will commence at 10 a. m., local time, and the first day of the sessions in the other cities will commence at 9 a. m., local time. Each session will continue as long as necessary and instead of specific termination dates as previously scheduled, will be terminated as determined by the presiding officer.

Miss Betty Sharp, Route 6, Chillicothe, will teach a special class in mathematics and commercial arithmetic. She will be graduated from Ohio University in June with a BS degree in secondary education.

George Hartman, superintendent of city schools, commented that the employment of these two teachers for special classes is an effort to classify students rather than to offer remedial courses.

All teachers employed by the board will start on the regular salary schedule, according to training and experience.

Employment of the five instructors and new principal were approved by the board after considerable deliberation on recommendations by Hartman.

Informal business conducted by the board included a letter of appreciation from the Circleville Teachers' Assn. for the pay increase granted by the board during February's session.

Members also agreed to conduct a tour of the older school buildings of the city in an effort to establish current needs and repairs.

Crisis on Horizon

One of the apparent inconsistencies of American world relations is that the United States exported $20.1 billion in goods and services last year compared to $14.4 billion of imports — a favorable trade balance of $5.7 billion. Yet this nation continues to struggle with a deficit in its international payments.

A crisis in that deficit may be approaching because exports are expected to decline this year.

The answer is, of course, that Washington is pouring out more economic and military aid, and the tourist outflow is so much greater than the inflow, that the $5.7 billion export surplus will not cover dollar expenditures in the aid and tourist areas. The U. S. international payments

Solution for Sports

The first complaint about overlapping sports seasons was probably uttered when the double bill at the Roman Colosseum cut into the gate at the chariot race sacross town. And 2,000 years of beefing haven't ended the evil.

Everyone by now is accustomed to the two-sport season — the world series competing with football, basketball's agonized finish in counterpoint to the thunk of horsehide in Florida (sportswriters call a baseball a horsehide).

But the twilight zone now involves not two, but four or half a dozen sports. Pro football ends just as baseball's spring training starts, baseball runs into football in autumn, and basketball bangs headon into both. And indoor track picks up where the others leave off.

No Cause Good If It's Bad

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody in our building feels sorry for Jack and Betty Goody.

They were such a nice young couple. It's a shame what happened to them.

Maybe if I tell their sad tale it might prevent some other young couple from meeting a similar fate.

Here goes:

When Jack and Betty moved into our building five years ago they were newlyweds. Jack was a junior executive in a wholesale plumbing firm. Betty worked as a secretary.

They knew nobody in the building, and at first found it hard to get acquainted. Then an older woman asked Betty to help her sell tickets for a church raffle.

Together they went through our building, knocking on every door. Betty did so well she was asked to sell tickets for a different church raffle.

Then she began to collect for philanthropies—the Red Cross, the American Cancer Society, the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Soon she was the best known girl in the building. But hardly anyone knew Jack, her husband.

"I'm getting sick and tired of this," he told her crossly. "Every night I come home to an empty apartment. You're always out collecting money for something or another, and it's 10 p.m. before we sit down to eat."

"Why don't you make the rounds with me?" suggested Betty.

So he did. They were such a gay, charming, chatty couple it was a pleasure to invite Jack and Betty Goody in for a drink—and, often, to stay on for dinner.

Charity began at home for them. Not their home—their home. But they never were a nuisance. If you didn't have a dollar handy for whatever good cause they were collecting for, they never minded. They would just as soon have a drink.

Before long the Goodyes were pals with every tenant in our building. At least once a month they would knock on each of the 135 apartments, and rarely indeed were they turned away.

Two years ago Betty quit her job. It was taking up too much of her time.

A year ago Jack was fired. The deficit was $2.5 billion last year, which means gold held by the U. S. government declined by that amount.

Washington has been trying to get the prosperous West Europe nations and Britain to assume more of the expenses of NATO defenses and to help Uncle Sam shoulder the burden of aiding underdeveloped countries so they can resist communist infiltration.

Perhaps the U. S. will never have a more favorable trade balance than now. But that strengthening factor will be dissipated if Washington gives it all back and more besides.

This country's only hope is to bring the entire international payments structure into balance, one way or another.

Summer is as bad. In fact, in every season there is a plethora, a glut, a surfeit of sports. This makes it impossible for the dedicated all-sports fan to give any sport the attention it deserves.

Perhaps the remedy would be to select 25 major sports and suppress all others. Each of the 25 could be given two weeks as its season and be forbidden during the remainder of the year. This would give the fan a chance to concentrate.

The astute reader will notice that two weeks have been left vacant. This fortnight would be devoted to an all-sports spectacular — public punishment, such as drawing and quartering, for broadcasters, sportswriters, etc., who mentioned any sport out of season. It should draw the biggest crowds of the year.

By Hal Boyle

boss complained he no longer had his mind on his work.

"It's okay, something will turn up," Jack said cheerfully.

He had put on 38 pounds and looked terrible. So did Betty. Their hands shook when they rapped on neighbors' doors. Their clothes became ragged. But they couldn't stop collecting for good causes. They had become addicts.

They no longer would stay for dinner, but they always had time for a drink, or two, or six.

Well, it all came to a head last week.

"Did you hear about poor Jack and Betty?" asked my wife. "They both came down with cirrhosis of the liver, and they are being dispossessed for nonpayment of their rent."

In our building we like to take care of our own. A committee of tenants decided to raise a fund to help the Goodyes. Then the question arose as to who would do the collecting.

"Why not let Jack and Betty do it themselves?" suggested one man. "After all, they've had more experience than anybody!"

Moral: No cause is good if it's bad for you.

By Sam Dawson

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—How much it will cost you to borrow and how much you'll be paid to save may change come spring.

Interest rates already are being juggled. Up till now it has been largely the saver who has been affected, as competing institutions raised the rates of what they'll pay him.

Their aim is to get more money to lend. And competition was the cause of the increase starting in January, in what they'll pay for savings. The changes so far have been largely to bring the rewards of various forms of saving more in line with each other.

But to pay the increased rates to savers, some lenders may be raising lending rates. This could come along with spring if that brings the hoped for increase in business activity and home building.

This is one of the ticklish situations facing the Kennedy administration. It wants to keep short-term interest rates high—to hold money in this country and prevent another run on our gold supply as in late 1960, when interest rates were very low here compared with European money centers.

Washington also would like to keep long-term interest rates from rising much. This is to make it easier for business to borrow to extend its activities and enlarge its plant, and to encourage home builders.

News that California savings and loan associations are set to raise their rates of payments to savers will be watched closely in Washington. West coast interest rates already are higher than in most sections of the country. The great demand for funds there has led the West to offer higher rates to lure funds from other money centers.

What Washington fears is that if these associations pay out still more for funds, they'll start charging more on mortgages to be able to meet the outgoing payments.

That is a form of dear money the administration hopes to avoid as an obstacle in its quest for a greater rate of economic growth.

Higher mortgage costs could cool the ardor of many would-be home owners in the spring. And just how big the home building will be is already doubtful enough.

Many bankers say the threat of higher mortgage costs is quite small. They say that in most parts of the nation there are ample funds for mortgage needs and that interest rates have been soft, if anything.

They tend to regard any increased payments on savings on the West Coast as a sectional thing.

LAFF-A-DAY

"May I accompany you on a stroll around the block?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SHERMAN ADAMS recalls a day when the Calvin Coolidges, residing at that time in Northampton, invited a Baptist revivalist minister to dinner. Mrs. Coolidge, an ex-cellent cook, was offended when the minister merely toyed with the food provided, but he explained that he never dared eat much before conducting a service, lest his effectiveness as an orator suffer.

That evening Mr. Coolidge accompanied the minister to his service, then put him aboard the 10:30 train for Boston. Returned home, he was asked by Mrs. Coolidge, "How was the service?" Mr. Coolidge's characteristically curt reply was, "He might's well've eat."

A tense courtroom drama unfolded last week when the comely wife of a noted delicatessen tycoon sued him for divorce. She won, too, leaving the tycoon literally stunned. "Boys," he told reporters, "that blonde has cleaned me out: lox, stock, and bagels!"

Olin Clark told about the little boy who, despite all warnings and fables, continued crying "Fire!" He turned out to be a wolf.

Glenn Sets Glowing Example

By George Sokolsky

Most striking in the Glenn excitement has been the quiet dignity and decorum of this ordinary American family from a little Ohio town suddenly thrust into the most exacting limelight.

Big city folk might learn much from this quiet family that fitted the situation as though to the manner born. There was no letting down the bars; no acting up. Colonel Glenn addressed the Mayor's luncheon in New York without a manuscript, in eloquent, forensic English. He reminded me of Will Rogers at his best.

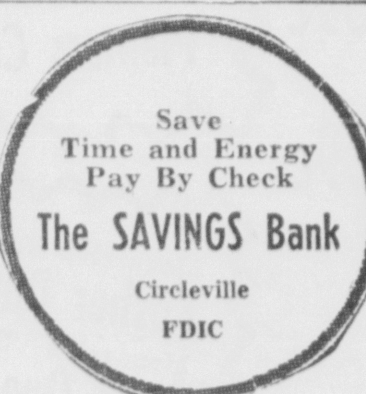

The astronaut's wife, Annie, riding through the rain in Washington, was a picture of what in Europe would be called the "well-born," for this is universally true, that they who are aristocrats by nature need not wear the trappings of aristocracy to be appreciated. Somehow, this family brought back the American small town into our lives and it is clean and wholesome and decent.

One of the major social illnesses of American life since Prohibition has been an increasing vulgarity in private conduct. Good manners have gone by the board and nobody wants to be a square, not even a grandmother who finds it necessary to wear a wig and nowadays do the twist, an imitation of African licentiousness, particularly ugly when done by adults. Maybe Victorian manners were stuffy and heavy but they were not cheap and vulgar. The bar-room was not brought into the home nor did one sit down to dinner with floosies and degenerates. They had their place somewhere in the dark. When manners go by the board, morals cease to exist and a home can be a brothel no matter how many children are in it.

The Prohibition era with its Flappers and the mixing of "family" people with whoever could provide liquid entertainment left its mark upon society and whoever raises his voice "fo the good old days" sounds like an old fogey which he may very well be.

But as one saw on the television screen, hour after hour, this fine family of Americans who so obviously live the family life, which we hold out as our way of life, whose relationship is one of unashamed love, one for the other, who required no artificial stimulants to cover up the "each goes his own way" attitude which is so fashionable in the big cities—this family on the screen taught us a lesson which is not too easily forgotten.

Colonel Glenn himself is conscious of the moral values in his flight, for in his extemporaneous address at the Waldorf Astoria he referred to them and speaking

6 PC Garden Club Members To Exhibit at Annual Show

Six Pickaway County Garden Club members will exhibit arrangements on the opening day of the Sixth Annual Garden and Flower Show in Columbus. The show which lasts from March 11 through March 18 will be staged at the Veterans Memorial.

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell's arrangement will include driftwood and animals and will depict the Country.

Mrs. John Eshelman's niche will be entitled "Town" and will consist of an arrangement featuring driftwood and birds.

Mrs. Turney Pontius will exhibit an arrangement of flowers and vegetables. Her display will interpret country life.

Mrs. Luther Bower's display will also represent country life and will be entitled "Square Dance". Exhibiting a table setting entitled "Breakfast in the Country" will be Mrs. Schubert Measamer and Mrs. Richard Jones.

The exhibits will be on display for one day only.

Tickets for the Garden and Flower show may be procured from members of the Pickaway County Garden club. Children under 12 are admitted free of charge.

All six exhibitors will also serve as hostesses on Sunday. Club cookbooks will be on sale at the garden club section of the Flower and Garden Show. The cookbooks are now in their second printing and feature many heirloom recipes of Pickaway County cooks.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Just for You!

DEAR ABBY: About three years ago you printed a letter signed "Peter," which I carried in my billfold. It was from a little boy who could not understand why God let his little brother die. I have lost my billfold and with it that precious clipping. Will you please print it again? It was the finest piece I've ever read.

A DEVOTED READER
DEAR READER: With pleasure.

Here it is:
DEAR ABBY: My Sunday School teacher says that God is everywhere. Please put this letter in the paper and maybe He will see it.

Dear God: Why did you let my brother die? When he was hit by the car my mother prayed to you to let him live, but you wouldn't. My little brother was only two years old and he couldn't have sinned so bad that you had to punish him that way. Everyone says that you are good and can do anything you want to do. You could have saved my little brother but you let him die. You broke my mother's heart. How can I love you?

PETER
DEAR PETER: Your question is one that has troubled religious men for thousands of years. One great thinker wrote a book about it. It is called "JOB" and is part of the Bible. It says that the suffering of innocent people is something we cannot understand. But this much is sure: Death is not a punishment. It is one of life's mysteries. Speak to your minister, Peter. Communicate with God by praying, and He will help you in your search for wisdom and goodness and help make your Mommy happy again.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who flatly refuses to put a picture of his wife and children on his desk at work? My husband says it is "corny," and is not done by top-flight executives. If you have an opinion on this subject, please state it in your column.

EXECUTIVE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: A man's family is something to boast about, and I see no reason why their pictures should not be on display alongside his diplomas, degrees and other achievements. If it is "corny," it's the kind of corn that happy family men grow fat on.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PAT: Go to your parish priest and tell him what you have told me. You will feel like a million dollars—and that's a lot of money—about $108,000 after taxes.

Big Science Fair Has 350 Projects

The annual Science Fair at Circleville High School will be held tomorrow and Friday evening in the W. Mill St. gymnasium.

More than 350 projects have been entered by students in this year's exhibit. Projects will be on display in the CHS gym from 7:30 to 9 p. m. both days of the Science Fair.

Judging of entries will be at 9

More judges are needed for Friday's program. E. R. Bennett announced today.

Seventy-five persons have volunteered to date. Bennett said at least another 50 judges are needed for a first rate handling job of the many entries.

Judges are needed in the fields of science, mathematics and medicine.

Interested persons may call Mrs. Betty Rickey at GR 4-4902.

p. m. Friday. An awards program will follow.

Projects will be judged on knowledge achieved; use of scientific method; clarity of expression; originality and creativity.

ENTRIES this year range from a scale model of a fallout shelter to the development stages of a chicken embryo.

Students have worked many hours on their individual projects. A strong support of the annual event by parents and friends is the only reward besides self satisfaction that they receive for their efforts.

This year's entries promise interest to all who attend.

John Minch and E. R. Bennett are co-chairmen of the 1962 program. The annual event, popular among all local students, is sponsored by the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — When a Des Moines mother answered her door the other day a nice-looking teen age boy was there. He said:

"I've seen your daughter at basketball games, and I couldn't find anyone to introduce me. So I thought I'd come over and ask you to please do it."

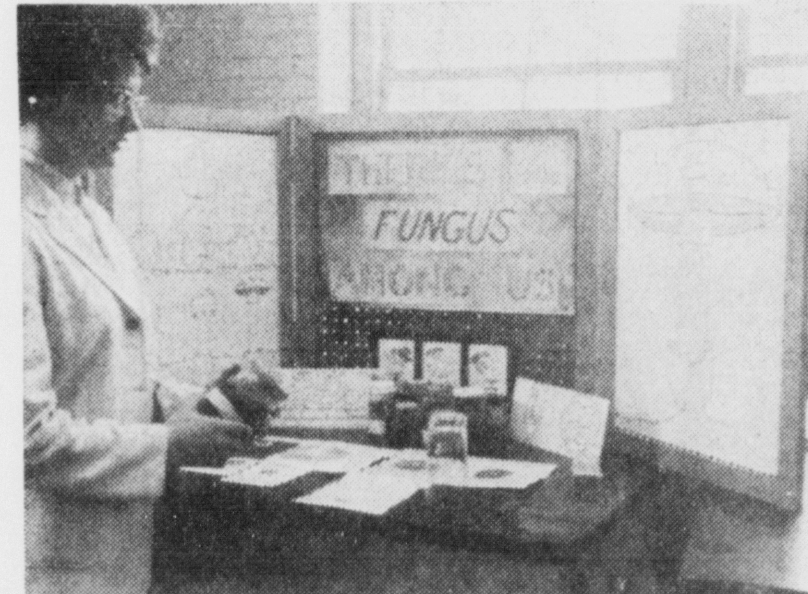

P. S. He got the introduction; and what's more he was invited to stay for supper.

Sohio-Borax Firms Agree on Contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Borax & Chemical Corp. of Los Angeles will manufacture and sell to the petroleum industry microbicides developed by Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) for use in jet aircraft and railroad diesel fuels, the firms announced today.

Sohio's researchers say fungi and bacteria in these fuels frequently cause corrosion, filter plugging and water emulsification. Boron compounds containing the microbicides are effective in killing these microorganisms in fuel systems, they added.

Lima Man Is Accused Of Theft from Armory

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Lima man, charged with stealing two .45-caliber pistols from a National Guard armory, is being held in Lucas County Jail by federal authorities.

Richard J. Butler, 21, was arraigned Monday before John M. McCabe, acting U.S. commissioner. Bond was set at $2,000.

He is accused of taking the pistols from the Lima Armory Feb. 25. He lives at 617 Heindel St.

Study Shows 6 Hours Sleep Is Enough

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some hints for resetting your alarm clock, the question of whether an insect thinks, and sparks from the surface of the moon are subjects for Science at Work.

To Sleep, Too Long

Most folks can get along on only six hours sleep a night—and the same goes for spacemen, an Air Force study claims.

The study also finds some other interesting points about sleep. It's hard for anyone to perform critical jobs well when they have been working on a 24-hour-awake schedule.

When you do sleep, sleep for at least two hours. And then, for best results, don't perform monotonous jobs continually for longer than two hours periods. Under conditions of stress, schedules should not be more severe than two hours on and two hours off.

Thinking Insects? Ever wonder what a mosquito thinks as it sinks its feeding proboscis into your arm, and you raise your hand to retaliate?

Well, it's unlikely that insects have any individual consciousness, as we understand it, says Dr. R. E. Snodgrass of the Smithsonian Institution. They are apparently governed by some sort of incomprehensible and unconscious instinct—not like human or animal instinct either.

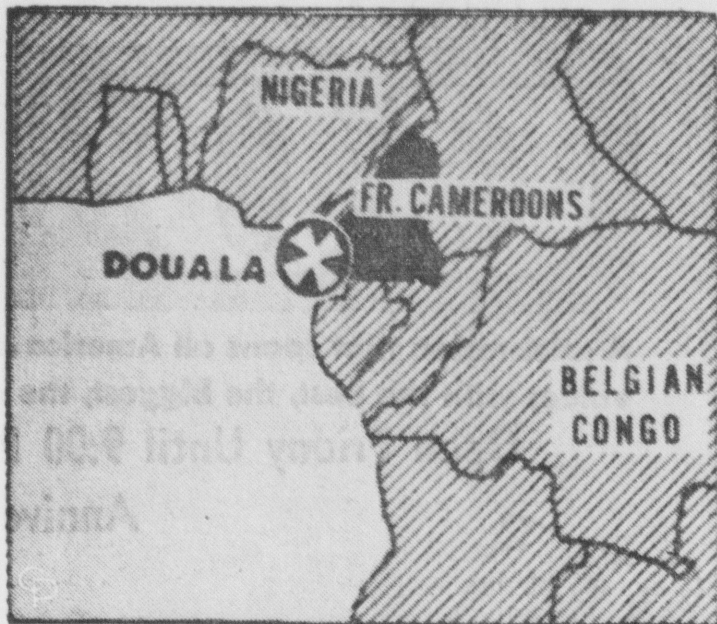

The queen or mother apparently governs insect societies through some sort of transmitted instincts, which do not leave the subjects of the colony individual freedom, Dr. Snodgrass suggests.

Science has yet to define what this insect instinct is, and how it operates, but many feel that it must exist. It is hard to imagine insects as mere machines when you scan their varied activities, Dr. Snodgrass adds. It would be like imagining automobiles driving themselves on crowded streets without ever colliding.

Moon Sparks For 10 days each month, while the earth's shadow shields the moon from the brilliance of the sun, a telescope with an electronic eye is watching the moon for meteorite collisions.

The electronic eye—without the human frailty of becoming bored and unwatchful at a monotonous job—is expected by scientists at Martin Marietta Corp. to pick out meteor flashes or "flares" as the fragments of space matter strike the moon at some 54,000 miles an hour.

The northern portions of North America and Europe abound with glacial lakes. Scandinavia, n-tario, Maine and Minnesota are among areas thickly set with the lakes.

AIR CRASH KILLS 111 IN JUNGLE—One hundred and eleven persons—98 adult and three children passengers and 10 crew members—were killed when a chartered DC7C airliner crashed and burned in a jungle swamp shortly after takeoff from the Douala, Cameroon Republic, airport. It was the worst single plane disaster in commercial aviation history.

President To See Fleet Maneuvers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today President Kennedy will witness Atlantic Fleet Navy and Marine maneuvers off the North Carolina coast on April 14.

Kennedy plans to leave Washington the previous afternoon and spend the night aboard a ship.

Kennedy will board the ship at Norfolk, Va., late in the afternoon of April 13.

Kennedy will sail off the Carolina coast where air and sea exercises will begin the morning of April 14. He will witness Marine amphibious exercises on a Carolina beach that afternoon.

The President watched Army exercises and saw a display of artillery at Ft. Bragg, N.C., last fall.

Leod, 21, Toledo, from his first-degree murder conviction in the slaying of a tavern operator near Akron on Aug. 21, 1960.

McLeod received a recommendation of mercy in the shotgun-slaying of Albert E. Moore in the Welcome Inn, during an attempted robbery. His counsel claimed that an oral confession was improperly introduced at the trial.

Two companions, Charles L. Smith and Daniel M. Lauharn were convicted in the same case of first-degree murder with a recommendation of mercy, taking a life sentence mandatory.

Testimony showed that Smith fired the shotgun that blasted Moore. Lauharn accompanied Smith into the tavern, but McLeod remained outside in a getaway car.

All three lived in Toledo. Accompanying them to Akron, but not participating in the hold-up was Donald McLeod, brother of Joseph, records show.

Powers Sinks into Obscurity Of Cloak, Dagger Business

EDITORS NOTE: Stanley Johnson covered the Moscow trial of Francis Gary Powers as a member of The Associated Press bureau in the Moscow capital. Now home on leave he was on hand for Powers' appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

By STANLEY JOHNSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Francis Gary Powers sank back into cloak and dagger obscurity today. He slipped out of the limelight after telling his story to the Senate Armed Services Committee—adding that he was still working for the Central Intelligence Agency.

This was a far cry indeed from what he said at his last public appearance — in Moscow's huge Hall of Columns Aug. 20, 1960, when he was sentenced to 10 years for espionage after his U2 plane was downed in the Soviet Union.

At that time, in soft and hesitant tones, Powers told the three-man Soviet military court that, if he ever got out of Soviet jails, he would have nothing to do with the profession that got him into his jam.

"It's back to the farm with me," the boy from the hills of southwestern Virginia said in effect.

But, judging from his testimony Tuesday, it's really back to the hills of northeastern Virginia where the CIA has its headquarters. Powers never lost his self composure at the Moscow trial. He didn't lose it Tuesday, either. In the Soviet capital he came into the crystal chandelier-lit hall expecting the death sentence. He came into the Senate hearing room, also lit by crystal chandeliers, knowing his oft-criticized course of conduct had been vindicated by an official CIA review.

The crowds, the lights, the cameras, the tables of reporters recalled the Moscow trial.

Both times he was soft spoken shyly smiling, and with a nervous habit of twisting his hands together. He hadn't visibly lost weight during almost two years in Red prisons and his curly crew-cut hair didn't seem any grayer.

Powers is the only Westerner who has been in solitary confinement in Moscow's dread Lubyanka prison and lived to come out and tell about it. He didn't tell much—just a calmly told tale of a cell with one bench, bad meals, and interrogations lasting up to 12 hours a day.

At his Soviet trial Powers seemed a man bound by the principle "see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." It was the same Tuesday.

For the first time he explained publicly what he meant to get across by his courtroom apology for his spy mission. However, he had already told his family in a tearful reunion and they had told the press. This explanation was, "My main sorrow was that the mission failed and I was causing unfavorable publicity for the States."

The handsome young pilot, a smile at the corner of his lips, left the old Senate Office Building with his two sisters as big an enigma as when led away to serve his Soviet jail term in 1960. Could anyone ask any more of a secret agent—even one who pled the spy trade in the wild blue yonder?

Butler County Fight Brews

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A sharp fight appears to be developing in the Butler County Republican primary election. One candidate for sheriff has challenged the eligibility of an opponent. Burton B. Gabbard Tuesday declared incumbent Sheriff James F. Hixon is not eligible to be a candidate in the primary because he allegedly voted in the 1958 Democratic primary in Franklin County, Ind. Hixon was appointed sheriff after the death of Paul A. Pell in January 1961. He pooh-poohed Gabbard's charge, saying, "When a man gets desperate, he's apt to do anything."

Chairmen Named For Senior Plays

The Circleville High School Senior Class will present a series of three one-act plays at 8 p. m. March 15 and 16 in the high school auditorium.

The three plays are "The Tell-tale Heart" by Edgar Allan Poe, "The Ugly Duckling" by A.A. Milne and "Sorry, Wrong Number" by Lucille Fletcher.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Senior Class and can be reserved at the school from 11:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. starting March 12.

Committee chairman for these plays are: Mike Alkire, stage and lights; Keith Thomerson and Ethel Fullen publicity; Valerie Hamilton, house; Stephanie Marion, Janet Griest and Chris Boyd, Make-up; Mary Gallion, Darlene Hopkins, Stevie Hedges and Jo Ann Valentine, costumes; Kathy Schmidt, Donna Chaney and Carolyn Smith, properties; and Mona Davis, sound.

For lasting green without hard work

It doesn't take lots of time, or expert skill, to enjoy rich rewards. Can you spare half an hour this weekend? Just fill the Scotts Spreader with clean, odorless TURF BUILDER, set the dial — and take a walk! Steady-feeding TURF BUILDER supplies all the protein-building nutrition grass needs to thrive — on poor soil, yes, even subsoil. You get a greener, thicker, healthier lawn — and the confident pride that goes with it.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Francis Gary Powers' case takes romance out of spying — like knocking the air out of a parachute that hit ground — and gives it a big business look.

It's big business for the CIA, America's super-spy organization, which spends perhaps $1 billion a year although the exact amount is hidden from all but a few people in government.

And it was good business for the short, trim, 32-year-old Powers himself who was paid $30,000 a year by the CIA for becoming a specialist in flying U2 spy planes after quitting the Air Force.

He sounded far more like a technician than an espionage agent Tuesday in his first public appearance since he was brought down in his U2 plane over Russia in 1960.

Before the Senate's Armed Services Committee, in a jam-

Area Holsteins Recognized

The Holstein Friesian Assn. of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by two registered Holstein cows in this area.

Orient Creator Burke Boy, a 6-year-old cow owned by Orient State Institute, produced 14,451 pounds of milk and 512 pounds of butterfat in 302 days.

Circle Rase Iowana Jerry, a 5-year-old owned by Walter C. Rase, Route 4, produced 15,464 pounds of milk and 611 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

In contrast the annual production of the average U. S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 pounds of milk containing 265 pounds of butterfat.

Ohio State University supervised the weighing and testing of the new Holstein records as part of the breed's official herd testing program.

New Railroad Case Trial Is Ordered

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Federal Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, threw out a lower court ruling today and ordered a new trial in a suit by George W. Gowins, 58, of Uhrichsville, Ohio, former railroader.

Gowins sought $150,000 damages in a suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., contending he was left partly paralyzed by injuries suffered Nov. 21, 1959 while at work as a freight train conductor.

Gowins, had worked on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Georgetown and Cadiz Junction, Ohio. He testified he suffered permanent injuries after tripping over an air hose and being hit by a moving locomotive. He also testified he had to walk through oil on the job.

packed room, e talked matter-of-factly and without drama about his Moscow trial and how he got loose from a plane disintegrating 12 miles high over Russia.

Even the report the CIA issued, clearing Powers of any failure to carry out his job, sounded like a letter to the stockholders from a bank board after checking on one of its cashiers.

It said he had followed instructions and lived up to his contract and therefore was entitled to the money due him. It has been estimated he'll get $50,000 in salary which piled up for him while he was in a Soviet prison.

On May 1, 1960, Powers' plane spun out of control and fell apart — he couldn't say exactly why — 1,200 miles inside Sovietland.

The Russians quizzed him for weeks, tried him, sentenced him to 10 years and, after he had been jailed 21 months, exchanged him for Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy caught here and sentenced to 30 years.

From the moment of his release until he appeared before the committee, the CIA had kept Powers out of circulation and examined him on every detail of his disaster.

The committee hearing might have been colorful and exciting except for this:

1. The CIA made the hearing as unnecessary as two tails on a horse by releasing its clean-bill-of-health for Powers two hours before the hearing started. That left the senators with little to ask.

2. Powers himself, a relaxed kind of man, is neither exciting nor excitable. From the way he talked he didn't even seem excited when his plane was falling to pieces.

Ever since his plane went down questions have been raised about his performance in the plane and at his trial. Some of the people

East Germany Gets Loan from Russia

BERLIN (AP) — A $325-million credit granted by the Soviet Union to Communist East Germany will be used to accelerate Socialist reconstruction of the satellite's economy, the official East German news agency ADN reported today.

The credit agreement was signed in Leipzig Monday together with a protocol providing for an exchange of goods during 1962 totaling 9.3 billion marks—$2,325,000,000 at the official rate—ADN reported.

After the signing ceremony, East German officials in Leipzig said the goods exchange would total two billion marks—$500 million. The low figure was apparently an error or misunderstanding and the officially published ADN figure appeared to be the correct one.

who seemed to take a dim view of him probably expected more of him than they might be willing to do under similar circumstances.

Some of the questions: Why didn't he kill himself with the poison needle he had? Why didn't he blow up the plane to keep the Russians from getting it? Why did he admit his spying so frankly at his trial?

The CIA answered them. He was not under instructions to destroy either himself or his plane. He was instructed, if captured, to talk frankly to the Russians except for certain specifications about the plane.

As for the poison needle, that was for him to decide on if he was tortured. If the pain became too much, he could use it or not use it. He was instructed to suit himself.

Ohio Farmers To Look at Iron Curtain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "People to People" trip to the Soviet Union and five other European countries is planned this spring by a group of Ohio agricultural leaders.

The group, including representatives from every major agricultural endeavor in Ohio, plans to spend eight days behind the Iron Curtain, five of them in the Soviet Union.

Robert H. Terhune, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, said the trip will be an informative, educational good - will mission dedicated to improving relations between Americans and the people of Europe, both East and West.

Planners of the trip asked Terhune to go along as co-ordinator, and he intends to do so on vacation time from his directorship. The group is scheduled to leave New York May 29 and return June 17.

The Ohioans will inspect typical agricultural operations of the six nations on the route — Belgium, France, Germany, Hungary, Poland and the Soviet Union.

Ohio Bell OKs Plan for New Toll Schedule

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Long distance calls within Ohio generally will be cheaper after May 1, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. reports.

The firm said it has reached agreement with Ohio's Utilities Commission on rate reductions that will amount to $1.5 million a year. Ohio Bell will file a new rate schedule with the commission next week, with approval probable by May 1.

The key changes are these: On station - to - station rates, customers will be able to place calls to any point in the state between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. for a maximum initial period rate of 40 cents. (Existing reduced evening rates, beginning at 6 p.m., will remain in effect, but the new plan allows even further cuts after 9 p.m.)

Person-to-person rates after 5 p.m. will be reduced by amounts ranging from 10 cents to 50 cents per call for the initial period, or an average 15-cent reduction.

Charges will be lowered on station - to - station daytime calls over certain routes.

The plan follows a recent agreement under which certain expenses and carrying charges were transferred from the states to the interstate telephone network. That agreement was among the Federal Communications Commission, the Bell System and the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners.

Kennedy To Visit Ike's Vacation Spa

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, accustomed to winter vacations in Florida, probably will spend the weekend of March 23-25 in Palm Springs, Calif.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is putting in the winter months in the Palm Springs area.

Eisenhower is expected to stay until April, which raises the possibility of a meeting between the two.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy is considering a weekend in Palm Springs after he receives an honorary degree and makes a speech at Charter Day ceremonies of the University of California in Berkeley March 23.

Kennedy will spend the coming weekend in Florida, probably in the Miami area. He will address a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Miami Beach Saturday night.

MAILMAN WALKS 300 MILES FOR A PAY RAISE—Ed Kline, 31-year-old mailman who walked 300 miles from Cuyahoga Falls, O., to Frederick, Md., (he rode the last 50 miles to Washington in a car), to join fellow mailmen in pressing Congress for a pay raise, relaxes on the roof of the National Association of Letter Carriers Building in the capital.

Red Skelton Ignores Medic's Order for Rest, Relaxation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How does he do it?
That's what the entertainment world has wondered about Red Skelton, longest-lasting of television comedians.

The high-flying redhead is rocketing through his 11th year in television. Last week he signed a new six-year contract with CBS that will expand his Tuesday night show to an hour next season.

The new contract was announced after Red had returned to work following a hospital siege, one of several during his television career.

The doctors' diagnosis: overwork, change of altitude—he had just finished a stand at Harrah's Club, Lake Tahoe—kickback from a mild sedative.

The prescription: rest, relaxation.

Outlook: he'll get neither. "The doctors said all I needed was some rest," he mused, fingering the ever-present cigar he never lights. "But how can I?"

"I've put $4.5 million in this studio, and it came right out of my own pocket. Today I'll be signing the payroll for the studio; it comes to $60,000 a week. So you can see that I've got to keep working."

He talked wistfully of what he might do if he did quit the grind. "I'd like to travel and study," he said. "There are all kinds of things I want to learn. For instance, I want to find out about the Scandinavian comics and why they are funny."

Such plans are idle dreams now that he has signed to double his output next season. During the summer he will play the Nevada pleasure spots and then do a month of fairs that will bring him $600,000.

To get back to our question: how does he do it?

The answer seems to be that making people laugh is not just a profession for Red. It is a dedication.

"I don't do anything else," he admitted. "Georgia and I never go to night clubs. We don't go to parties. We don't even take vacations."

He spends his days working on television production. He spends his nights dreaming up new ideas and techniques, watching the three television sets placed above his bed. He seldom sleeps before dawn; the early morning hours are devoted to his hobbies and interests. His current pursuit is tracing the life of Christ from birth to 12 years.

'Willie' Turns Out To Be Raiding Cops

CINCINNATI (AP)—"Open the door; it's Willie," said a voice outside the house.

The door opened, but it was three vice squad officers who forced their way in on a numbers raid.

The voice calling outside had been that of Detective Harry Batter, who said officers confiscated more than 100 policy slips and arrested two women.

Mrs. Agnes Bennett, 52, and Mrs. Alice McAfee, 50, were charged with possession of policy slips.

Mrs. McAfee said sadly: "I don't know anybody named Willie. I don't know why I opened that door."

2 Brothers Free in Probe Of Beating

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Two Detroit brothers arrested for investigation in the robbery and beating of a Catholic priest in Kansas City will be free to continue their journey southward after serving sentences in Vandalia Jail for walking on the wrong side of the highway.

The men, Walter Reuther, 30, and Ernest Reuther, 28, were arrested Sunday for questioning in the beating and robbery of the Rev. Martin Joseph Larkin, 52, of Minneapolis.

Father Larkin was shown photographs of the Reuther brothers in Kansas City where he is recovering, but could not identify them as his assailants.

The brothers were fined $5 Tuesday on the minor charge. Having no money they will serve a few days in jail.

"We were stunned when arrested," one of the brothers said. "We hadn't been anywhere near Kansas City." The brothers said they were on their way to St. Petersburg, Fla., to find jobs.

State patrolmen said they arrested the men because they fit the characteristics of the two men described in a Kansas City pick-up order.

Hog Research To Help Boost Pork Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says research is providing the hog industry with tools to restore pork to a more favorable competitive position at the meat counter.

Those tools, it said, are new knowledge for developing improved breeds of hogs—breeds that produce better quality pork with less fat.

A special report on swine breeding said, "the downward trend in consumption of pork relative to other kinds of meats can perhaps be halted and pork restored to a more favorable competitive position."

"Pork," it added, "has traditionally been an inexpensive meat, important in the diet especially of low-income families. Improving the quality and economy of pork year after year by even a small fraction would significantly enrich the diet nationally and raise the standard of living of many people."

The report said that through research the stage has been set for great improvement in swine. Adoption of even a fraction of the modern aids to swine improvement by breeders could yield, it said, far-reaching benefits.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hen is doing her part in keeping the poultry industry abreast of agriculture's increasing efficiency.

An Agriculture Department report shows that the nation's laying hens produced an average of 210.5 eggs last year. This compares with an average of 192 in 1955 and with 174 in 1950.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Tree Farm System reports 57,665,000 acres of privately owned land are now engaged in the industry-promoted program of growing trees as a commercial crop.

Last year brought a net gain of 2,971 new tree farms to the system, the greatest annual gain in the 20 years the program has been in operation.

States with the largest number of acreages are Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Oregon, Washington, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. Expansion of tree farms in the Southeast has helped promote development of a paper mill industry there.

Railroads Urge New Negotiations

CHICAGO (AP)—Railroad management has recommended a meeting with union negotiators in Chicago March 20 to resume talks on the basis of a Presidential commission's report calling for modern and cost-saving working rules.

Negotiations would resume in Chicago at the point talks ended Oct. 17, 1960, when the dispute was referred to a committee appointed by the President under terms of the Railway Labor Act.

The Presidential Commission's report, which was made public Feb. 28, proposed to change the basic economic structure of the industry, revise its pay scales, change long-standing practices and swing operations into line with modern technological advances.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

Q. I have a small, finger-like projection in front of my ear. What could this be? Is it dangerous and should it be removed?

A. Projections of this sort and in this location are usually embryonic left-overs. They should probably be surgically removed. When skillfully done, only a hairline scar remains.

Restless Legs

Q. Shortly after I go to bed I experience a sensation that can only be described as "restless legs." I can't sleep so I pace the floor. Is there any treatment? I'm exhausted from loss of sleep.

A. This is a frequent complaint of many middle-aged and elderly persons. The sensation is very unpleasant and the victim has an almost irresistible urge to keep the legs in motion. Unfortunately, the cause is unknown and treatment is frequently unsatisfactory. However, discuss the problem with your doctor. He may at least prescribe something that will let you get some much-needed rest.

Silo-Filler's Disease

Q. What is silo-filler's disease? A. It is a lung condition affecting farm workers exposed to nitrogen dioxide fumes produced by silage fermentation.

Slipping Conveyor Belt Kills Woodville Foreman

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Lime Co. foreman died Tuesday when he was pulled into the machinery of a conveyor hauling stone at nearby Woodville.

Killed was Eugene Shreffler, 47, of Woodville.

Witnesses said the conveyor belt was slipping. Shreffler reached in to wipe off a pulley and became entangled in the conveyor mechanism, they said.

Self-Help, Family Nursing Takes on New Meaning Today

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 14th in a series of articles prepared by the Pickaway County Registered Nurses Assn. concerning Civil Defense. Today's article is the first of two regarding home nursing. This one deals with responsibilities of nursing assistants in time of emergencies.

Nearly every family faces the problems of having some one ill or injured at some time.

Today, self-help and family help in nursing care take on additional meaning. In a national emergency not only must great reliance be placed upon self-help within families but blocks, neighborhoods and communities must also be prepared to meet the continuing nursing needs of large numbers of the sick and injured.

The nursing care required for injuries and illnesses resulting from a major disaster of modern warfare is similar to that needed in usual situations.

Some preparations for the health of families in an emergency are as simple as they are important. For example, there are certain supplies to have on hand.

At least one member of the family should take the American Red Cross first aid and home nursing courses and other such approved courses when they are available in the community. Persons should make sure all vaccinations such as smallpox, tetanus shots and others recommended by physicians are kept up to date for all members of the family.

Methods of emergency care and treatment of the sick and injured may serve to keep a sick or injured member of the family alive until professional help arrives.

There may be a bed ridden member of the family at the time of a Civil Defense emergency. Plans should be made now for transporting this patient to the family shelter. All supplies, linens, medicines (two months supply should always be kept on hand) should be ready and in the sickroom.

Every home maker should know how to change a bed with a patient in the bed; how to properly give a bed bath; to turn a bedridden patient, keeping good posture so as not to injure yourself; how to give good care to the back and other pressure areas to aid blood circulation and prevent bed sores.

Under emergency conditions nursing assistants will be expected to perform duties in their own homes, shelters, emergency hospitals or emergency medical stations. During the immediate emergency period good general nursing care is of primary importance for all patients, who may be frightened, cold, hungry or thirsty.

Emotional problems are greatly increased, particularly under conditions of confined living. They will vary with the mental and physical condition of the individual. Patients should be kept quiet and made comfortable as quickly as possible by providing proper support and cover and by giving what ever food and liquids are permitted and available.

NURSING assistants can help set up and improvise equipment and supplies wherever they may be needed. Limited facilities and supplies will necessitate many adaptations.

For example, newspapers may be used under mattresses on the floor as a protection against moisture and cold blankets or clothing may be rolled and used as pillows and drinking cups may be made from clean paper. Hand washing facilities may be limited but nursing assistants can still carry out the principles of cleanliness to protect patients and themselves from infections.

You may be of help in observing and caring for a patient that is receiving an intravenous injection, in caring for patients coming out of an anesthetic assisting with special treatments under supervision, giving nourishment to patients and to protect them from additional hazards, such as loose plaster, shattered glass, gas leaks, leaking roofs, wet floors, and danger of fires.

A nursing assistant may be assigned to assist with admission of patients to shelters hospitals, or other medical care centers or to prepare patients for transfer.

The presence of a seriously ill or injured person in a shelter may be greatly upsetting to others quartered there. The person responsible for emergency nursing may find it as essential to give aid and comfort to the healthy persons as to provide actual nursing care for the patient.

Piketon Brothers Face Grand Jury

CINCINNATI (AP)—Robert and Lester Murphy, Piketon brothers, face grand jury action on seven charges of armed robbery following action in municipal court today.

Judge Gilbert Bettman ordered them held in $2,000 bond each.

Police said Monday Robert Murphy, 20, and Lester, 31, admitted taking part in five robberies in greater Cincinnati that netted a total of $800.

Officers said they also admitted three holdups in the Chillicothe-Piketon-Waverly area, the most recent one at a Waverly market from which $750 was taken last

City Council Meetings In High Schools Urged

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Edward O. Erickson told City Councilmen Tuesday he thought council should hold one of its weekly meetings in a different high school each month.

Seniors would attend the meetings as part of their study program under the proposed plan. The idea has not been formally introduced in council.

Thursday.

Robert Murphy faced three charges of armed robbery and Lester Murphy faced four.

Sheriff Jess Foster of Pike County said he planned to question the two further about robberies in his area.

Derby News

The first Lenten Service of the season was held at the Derby church Sunday evening. All future services will be conducted on Wednesday night of each week throughout the season.

A Bake Sale sponsored by the Derby M.Y.F. will be held at Leon's Market, Harrisburg, Saturday morning.

Mrs. Charles Smith and daughter, Nancy, enjoyed a visit with their aunt, Mrs. Carl Vance of near Mt. Sterling Saturday afternoon.

Relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. William Deyo to help her mother, Mrs. Virgie Higgins, observe her 80th birthday. Refreshments were served and she received many gifts. Present were Mrs. Jean Higgins and children, Mrs. Gary Wardell, Mrs. John Young, sons Brad and Brian.

The Derby P.T.A. will hold its March meeting on Thursday night March 8th at the school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nance and daughters were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nance. Evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deyo also of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mattheas have been victims of the flu the past week. Hope this finds them much improved.

Mrs. Margaret Hughes of Athens visited Sunday with her mother Mrs. Virgie Higgins, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wardell.

Mrs. James Tull of Dayton, and daughter, Mrs. Paul Yaeger of London, called on Miss Grace Minshall on Friday afternoon. Evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Corke and daughters Deborah and Rhonda of Lincoln Village, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. William Deyo and Mr. and Mrs. John Young and sons spent the past weekend visiting in Ft. Wayne, Indiana with the Franklin Deyo family.

ACCORD, N. Y. (AP) — This Hudson Valley community owes its name to a former assistant postmaster general who had a sense of humor.

Residents wanted a post office but could not agree on a name for the community. They met several times to discuss the situation but finally wrote to the Post Office Department that their meetings had entered in discord.

A letter came back from Washington. "In view of your problem," it said, "we have decided to call your town Accord."

And so it is named today.

15 of Top 20 High School Teams Still in Tournaments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's sports editors — newspaper and radio-television—did a great job of picking the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll.

With 813 of the state's 933 teams eliminated in the "lose and out" tournaments leading to the state championships, 15 of the top 10 in Class AA and Class A are still in there firing.

Only ninth-place Huron of the Class AA contingent is missing. In Class A the absentees are Ames-Bern (4), Lima Perry (5), Dover St. Joseph (8) and Houston (9).

One of the elite list in Class AA saw action Tuesday night. Dayton Roosevelt, rated sixth, ran its record to 18-3 with a 71-52 verdict over Kettering Fairmont (19-3) in the Beavercreek District meet.

There were no Tuesday games in Class A, where the starting field of exactly 500 teams has been whittled to 56.

The Columbus District came up with a couple of surprises. Gahanna Lincoln (15-7) ended Grove City's 20-game winning streak—the second unbeaten foe to fall before the club. Reynoldsburg also snubbed its toe against the Gahanna team in the tournament.

Newark's Wildcats, back in 1936, went into tournament play with an 8-10 record and emerged with the state championship and a 16-10 mark—the poorest ever to capture the crown. The current Cats also started the long trek with 8-10, and Tuesday night claimed their fourth tourney conquest 59-43 over Columbus Waterson for a 12-10 record and a chance to duplicate the 1936 effort. Gahanna and Newark meet Thursday.

Canton McKinley, which has been in the state meet as many times as any school, fell by the wayside at Canton Tuesday night when Canton Lincoln (18-3) won 58-48 over the Bulldogs, who finished with 14-7.

Columbus East's 1951 champions stayed in the fight with an 11-11 record by defeating Columbus West 54-49. Cincinnati Withrow (19-1) showed power in a 79-66 win over Cincinnati Purcell, and Cincinnati McNicholas made it 18-2 with a 66-48 nod over St. Xavier. The victors meet Friday in the Cincinnati District.

With the 433 Class AA teams cut to 64 after Tuesday night's frays, nine former champions are still alive. In addition to Columbus East they are Newark (1936-38 - 43), Martins Ferry (1941), Zanesville (1926 - 55), Cleveland East Tech (1958-59), Middletown (1944-46 - 47 - 52-53-56-57), Xenia (1942) Dayton Roosevelt (1934-60) and Hamilton Garfield (1937-49-54).

Six former Class A winners are still in the fight. They are Miller City (1950), Ayersville (1957-61), Castalia Margaretta (1932), West Liberty Salem (1960), Arcanum (1956) and Columbiana (1947).

By Saturday night each division will be down to 16 teams, the qualifiers for next week's regional tournaments. Both the top 10 and former champion lists will be slashed by then, for many of the top-notchers run into each other this week.

Among the big ones assured in that category are ex-champions Martins Ferry vs. Zanesville Thursday night at Martins Ferry in Class AA, and second-ranked Alger vs. seventh-rated Fostoria St. Wendelin in Class A Friday at Tiffin. Beverly Fort Frye and Zanesville Rosecrans, both unbeaten, will meet Saturday in the New Concord District finals unless upset in the semi-finals. Three other Class A teams—Alger, Ayersville and Irondale Stanton Local—are unbeaten in Class A.

Cleveland East Tech, Hamilton Taft, Urbana and Mansfield St. Peter—the first four in that order in the final Associated Press poll—are the only clean clubs in Class AA.

Hawaii Chiefs Cop 2nd Place Ranking

HONOLULU (AP) The Hawaii Chiefs moved into sole possession of second place in the Western Division of the American Basketball League Tuesday night, trouncing the San Francisco Saints 122-97 for their sixth straight victory.

Bill Spivey and Govoner Vaughn paced the Chiefs with 22 and 19 points apiece while Whitney Bell led the Saints with 17.

Hawaii now has a 14-17 record, one game ahead of the Saints (13-18) in the battle for second place. No other ABL games were scheduled.

Golden Gloves To Crown King

CHICAGO (AP) —Champions in all eight divisions of the National Golden Gloves Tournament will be crowned tonight.

A card of 24 bouts—including semifinals—will be presented in Chicago Stadium with 32 fighters from all parts of the nation fighting to win championships.

Also to be decided will be the team title. Toledo, with 16 points and five boxers in the semifinals, holds the lead. Lowell, Mass., is second with 13 points but has only three fighters in the running.

Chicago, Cincinnati and Fort Wayne have 12 team points each and a chance for the title.

Milwaukee has a working agreement with Toronto. Ironically, Toronto is managed by Charlie Dresen, who was dropped as Braves' manager last fall.

Cobb Pacer Set for Test At Hollypark

SANTA ANITA, Calif. — Eddie Cobb's Ace of Spades, who was one of the most improved pacers at the 1961 Hollywood Park autumn meeting, will attempt to pick up right where he left off when Western Harness Racing Assn. opens its spring season here Tuesday.

Although recording only six victories in 28 starts last year, Ace of Spades chalked up four of his triumphs last fall at Hollypark, with his other three outings at the meet finding him second. Three times on the Inglewood track, he posted marks at the 2:00 mark or better — 2:00, 1:59.2 and 1:57.4.

The main reason for his rather mediocre record in 1961 is the fact that he shies at a half-mile track, preferring to negotiate the big turns of a mile oval. The mile track at Santa Anita is a certainty to be to his liking.

During his seven starts at Hollywood Park last fall, the 5-year-old gelded son of Cobb's Jerry the First defeated such top horses as Mr. Budlong, last year's Californian winner at Santa Anita; Caduceus, who almost upset the great Adios Butler at the Inglewood track; and Merrie Adios, a top-notch runner from the Byron D. Kuth stable.

Ace of Spades will be trained and driven by Real (Coco) Cormier, who will be handling Eddie Cobb's horses at Santa Anita. Cormier, who is currently making his California driving debut at the Bay Meadows meeting, is a 26-year-old Canadian from Shawinigan, Quebec.

With Adios Butler having been retired to stud near Washington, C.H., Ohio, Ace of Spades will be attempting to become the top horse in the Cobb stable.

NCAA Federation Plan To Be Delayed

CHICAGO (AP)—Plans to form sports federations in track and field and gymnastics by the National Collegiate Athletic Association will be delayed until July 5.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said Tuesday the delay was necessitated because the national high school group, which has endorsed the program, needs until July 5 to poll its constituents in regard to joining.

The announcement ended a

Rocky Tags Self As Czar of Boxing

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Rocky Marciano has a four-point program he thinks could help cure the ills of boxing in the United States.

The ex-heavyweight king says he'd like to be federal boxing czar so he could work for uniform rules in every state, a better withholding tax plan for boxers, government subsidy to help develop young fighters and insurance and pension protection for boxers.

Marciano, who retired undefeated, told a reporter he thinks the sport could be on the upgrade two years after a commissioner is named.

George Kell and Ernie Harwell have been signed through 1965 to handle the baseball telecasts of the Detroit Tigers. Kell was a former Detroit third baseman.

Bearcat Raps All-America Selections

CINCINNATI (AP)—Coach Ed Jucker of the University of Cincinnati Bearcats says he does not agree with the Associated Press All-America Team selections.

"How can we be ranked No. 2 in the country all season long and yet get only one boy listed as an All-America?" Jucker demanded. "I consider it an insult."

The only Bearcat to make the All-America roster was center Paul Hogue. He was named to the third team.

"If Tony Yates doesn't deserve to be on one of the first three All-America teams, or Ron Bonham or George Wilson don't deserve at least honorable mention, nobody does," Jucker declared.

Jucker added that in his opinion Cincinnati now should be rated ahead of Ohio State because UC beat Wisconsin twice while the Badgers handed the Buckeyes their first defeat of the season last weekend.

Princeton Cage Coach Resigns

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Joey L. (Jake) McCandless announced Tuesday night he was giving up his duties as Princeton Basketball coach to devote full time to his work as backfield coach on the university's football team.

McCandless made his announcement at the university's annual basketball dinner. He coached the team the past two seasons, leading the Tigers to an Ivy League championship in 1961.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—It is of but passing interest to television viewers when Perry Como wants to lighten his working schedule, when ABC debates whether to cancel a series like "Maverick," when CBS is moving its programs around its blueprint of next season's schedule like chessmen in a giant game.

But when you're a performer in a television series, you're going through the end-of-winter anxious days as next year's plans are being made. The decisions vitally affect many careers and bread-and-butter sources.

Comedian Paul Lynde, a popular member of the Perry Como Show cast for the past season, is like so many others—in a typical March situation. Como's next-season plans are still up in the air. Lynde is co-star of a projected comedy series which is under consideration for a possible network spot. He can't make any real decisions about his life.

"Television has been very good to me," Lynde said. "The exposure has been great. But it scares me to realize how fickle those audiences can be. I've seen what happened to comedians—Red Buttons, George Gobel, Martha Raye. One season they're right on top, and the next—nothing. What happened?"

Lynde, whose own specialty is comedy character roles, believes the secret of longevity is to "move along almost blandly—not demanding too much attention, not making too much of an impression."

He'd love to work in his own series. He enjoys working on the Como Show. What he'd really like is to know what he'll be doing next fall—it's the uncertainty that is so hard to take.

NBC picked up the highest rating of the season for its "White Paper" series with its recent report on Red China.

ABC's "The Untouchables" and Robert Stack have been renewed for another season.

Recommended tonight: "Checkmate," CBS, 8:30-9:30 (EST) — Mary Astor guest-stars; Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 — Joe E. Ross and Fred Gwynne of "Car 54, Where Are You?" are the guests.

COMING OUR WAY—The yet-unnamed Australian challenger for the America's Cup, world's greatest yachting trophy, undergoes the first of the craft's sea trials off Sydney, Australia. The vessel cost an Australian syndicate $675,000 to build and is rated a fair chance to wrest the Cup from American hands for the first time in history.

SEAL OF APPROVAL—Pete Pelican and Sammy Seal never had it so good as when they were picked up by two unidentified visitors on a Long Beach pier in Southern California.

Sewer Easements Get Council OK

Two ordinances appropriating money for Sewer District No. 2 easements were among six measures passed by City Council, meeting in regular session last night.

One of the ordinances called for $700 to be paid to Virginia Repligle for the sewer project right-of-way. The other was for $348 to John Himrod for easement rights on his property.

The measures were presented under suspension of rules, with all seven Councilmen casting affirmative votes for passage. The Repligle appropriation was at 20 cents per foot. Himrod's was 10 cents per foot, plus about $123 for removal of shrubbery.

Both ordinances provide that the cost of the easements will be included in the cost of construction of Sewer District No. 2. The General Revenue Fund will be reimbursed the full amounts when the sewer project notes are sold.

ONLY one more easement remains to be obtained for the long-awaited sewer project. Council has voiced hopes the final transaction will be completed soon in order to allow construction to get under way. The finished project will service the new Nicholas Drive Elementary School which is scheduled for opening in September.

Another ordinance approved the purchase of slightly more than eight acres of C. F. Repligle land northwest of the city as a site for construction of a new waterworks plant. The purchase is part of the Water Department's Water Improvement project which already has undergone extensive planning and study.

The land was purchased at about $600 per acre. Council was told. Ervin Leist, local public utilities head, said his department is now in a position to purchase the land. Bidding procedure is expected to be initiated soon for construction.

Installation and removal of street lights was provided in another ordinance. One section authorized the removal of two lights on the parking lot behind the vacated American Legion building on E. Main St. The other called for installation of a light in an alley adjoining the J. C. Penney Store.

The work will be conducted by the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.

The city fathers also gave ordinance approval to the State Highway Department to paint and clean the bridge over Hargus Creek on Lancaster Pike.

A final ordinance fixed the salary for an assistant Council clerk who was employed to serve notices concerning sewer easements. The amount of $45 will be paid to Forrest Easterday for the services provided.

Wayne Council Unit Eyes Safety Test

The Wayne Advisory Council discussed plans for the Safe Driving contest to be held during March at the February meeting held in the Wayne Twp. School.

The meeting was opened by Harold Schien, chairman.

Mrs. Russell Yapple reminded the members of the contest, and explained the safety program and the point system.

William Richards led the discussion, "A Farm Program for the Sixties." Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Senators Laud Performance of U2 Spy Pilot

Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., commented he was satisfied Powers had "conducted himself in an exemplary fashion, and in accordance with the highest traditions of the country."

Others commending Powers were Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and J. Glenn Beall, R-Md.

Powers filled in with vivid detail many of the highlights of his adventure May 1, 1960.

When he was winging high over the Ural Sea he saw two vapor trails far below him that might come from Soviet jets hunting for him. "I don't think they ever saw me," said Powers.

When he had landed by parachute he saw another parachute in the sky, not a part of his plane's equipment. At the time, he said he speculated it might be a parachute bringing back part of a fired Russian rocket.

The Soviets claim a rocket shot down the U2. Powers apparently was convinced it was a near miss, and no hit.

Powers said, "I feel that the explosion was external to the aircraft and behind me, but I really don't know."

He said his first reaction was to reach for what he called the "destruct switches." These were connected to 2½-pound charge set to damage the photographic equipment.

While Powers never made it clear if this also would destroy the plane, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said such a charge would have been highly damaging to the plane itself. Goldwater is a reserve Air Force general.

Powers said there was a good reason why he couldn't use the pilot ejection mechanism provided in the plane.

"In this particular aircraft," he said, "there isn't much clearance between the pilot's knees and the top of the windshield. If I had used the ejection seat at that time I would probably have lost both legs just above the knees."

Powers said he tried to invent a story that he was off course but the Soviets wouldn't buy it as they had found the poison needle, maps of the Soviet Union, Russian rubles and other equipment.

Powers said he was questioned as much as 10 or 12 hours daily for some time. He said he was not mistreated.

Although his orders gave him authority to cooperate and answer most questions, Powers said, he was a reluctant witness under pre-trial interrogation.

Did the Russians misquote him as having said he made a terrible mistake in flying a mission over Soviet soil and was sorry?

"No," he said, "that wasn't a misquotation. I made this statement on the advice of my defense counsel, and also because it was easy to say I was sorry. What I meant by saying that, and what I wanted them to think I meant was quite different.

"My main sorrow was that my mission failed, and I was sorry that I was there and it was causing a lot of adverse publicity to the States."

U. S. soldiers first wore campaign dress during the Mexican War. Their uniforms were similar to those of today's West Point cadets.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Northeasterly winds continued the flow of mild Atlantic sea air over the state Tuesday night. Skies were cloudy and scattered light snow flurries fell.

The cloud blanket was an effective insulator against nocturnal cooling, and by early morning temperatures in Ohio were mostly in the upper 20s and low 30s.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy though some sunshine may peer through the afternoon cloudiness and temperatures will range from the mid 30s in northern communities to the lower 40s south.

Partial clearing will allow the thermometer to drop to the lower 20s Thursday night.

At daybreak today representative temperatures were Columbus and Cleveland 28, Marietta 31 and Cincinnati 32.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS
NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 43, normal low 25-28. Not much day to day change in temperature, little or no precipitation through Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average about two to ten degrees below normal. Normal high 46-53, normal low 28-32. Warmer Thursday and Friday, colder over the weekend. Rain or snow about Friday.

World Prayer Day Scheduled Friday

World Day of Prayer Services, sponsored by the United Church Women, will be held in the Presbyterian Church, E. Mound St., starting 3 p. m. Friday.

Each year the services for World Day of Prayer are written by women from a different country. This year the service comes from Uruguay.

It was written by Mrs. Eudoxia Perez de Svetogorski and Miss Violeta Cavallero, both of Montevideo.

Throughout the world the services will be the same. Only the language will differ.
More than half of European travelers from the U. S. come from New York, California, Illinois and New Jersey.

Quadros Due Back in Brazil

Another Political Quest Is Now Hinted

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Ex-President Janio Quadros makes his long-awaited return to Brazil today for what most people believe will be a new quest for political power. He has given no hint of his plans.

Quadros, whose sudden resignation last August brought Brazil to the verge of civil war, arrives with his family aboard the steamship Ruys at the coffee port of Santos, 210 miles southwest of Rio.

Friends, political allies and the usual turnout of the curious were expected to be on hand to welcome the 55-year-old leader back from his six months of self-imposed exile. No official red carpet reception was scheduled.

The Foreign Office reportedly dispatched a representative to extend protocol courtesies, but high government officials, including former members of Quadros' Cabinet, denied reports they would be on hand.

Quadros quit after eight months in the presidency blaming forces inside and outside the country which he said were hamstringing his policies. Brazil at the time was beset by economic ills and mounting political unrest. The situation has worsened.

The government that succeeded Quadros was born out of a hastily improvised parliamentary system forced on the nation by conservative military opposition to left-leaning Vice President Joao Goulart, who succeeded Quadros. The government has been unable to control the galloping inflation plaguing Brazil.
